California Reserve Peace Officer's Association

33rd Annual Reserve Peace Officer Conference

August 26th — 28th 2010

Town & Country Resort Hotel San Diego, California

The California Reserve Peace Officers Association was founded in 1974 for the purpose of raising the professional, educational and employment standards of Reserve Peace Officers. Working with individual reserves, reserve associations, law enforcement agencies, the State Commission on Peace Officer Standards and Training, and the California Legislature, CRPOA has, from the beginning, been actively engaged in working for the betterment and welfare of reserves. Although originally founded solely for the benefit of reserve officers, the Association now also serves search and rescue members and volunteers in policing.

The 33rd Annual Reserve Peace Officer's Training Conference ARPOC, will be held August 26th through the 28th, 2010 at The Town & Country Resort Hotel in San Diego, California.

There will be static displays and a Vendor/Exhibitor area to offer you the opportunity show or sell merchandise and services for use by volunteers, agency coordinators and law enforcement professionals.

We will have our Annual Awards Luncheon on Friday, August 27th, where we will honor many volunteers that have performed above and beyond during the year.

Each year between 400 and 600 members and agency representatives attend the three-day conference. This marketing opportunity is too good to miss. Be sure to send your application in early to secure preferred booth locations.

Conference Vendor/Exhibitor Packets will be mailed to all applicants in early 2010. Additional information, including attendee demographics can be obtained by contacting your Vendor/Exhibitor Coordinator listed below.
