

The Relationship between the California Reserve Peace Officers Association and
Community Safety, LLC

Thank you for your interest in the California Reserve Peace Officers Association (CRPOA) sponsor program. To insure the program's financial success and the distribution of CRPOA information to program sponsors, the California Reserve Peace Officers Association has retained the professional services of Community Safety, LLC. Community Safety funds the start-up costs and is liable for the fundraising expenses effort which is fixed at eighty five percent. After the California Reserve Peace Officers Association's identity and purpose has been delivered to prospective sponsors and after all of the operating expenses of the sponsorship effort, including but not limited to, telephone, postage, rent, supplies, insurance, printing and labor costs have been satisfied, the CRPOA is guaranteed a fifteen percent return of the gross revenue.

The funds we receive from this relationship are used to fund our Annual Reserve Peace Officers Conference held each year to provide Peace Officers Training and Standards (POST) certified bi-annual training for Reserve Peace Officers. Your donation helps to insure we can continue to provide this type of education at a reasonable cost.

Please take a few moments to review this web site. You will learn a great deal about the California Reserve Peace Officers Association and our activities to serve the citizens in the State of California. All of our Board of Directors are volunteers that help carry on the administrative duties of the Association as well as hold fulltime employment in various professions.

Once again, thank you for your inquiry and interest in the California Reserve Peace Officers Association.
